Optically Bonded

Optically Bonding layer

"We add value to you and your applications"

CDS offers optical enhancements for displays, including Anti-Reflection Enhancement Film, AR glass, or full optical bonding. Optical bonding involves filling the air gap between the LCD and substrate, eliminating light refraction and reflection, improving display legibility in direct sunlight.

It also acts as a barrier against condensation build-up and provides UV protection for outdoor applications. The bonding, combined with an LED backlit panel, reduces energy consumption compared to high bright products. CDS can customize solutions based on panel and substrate types, addressing specific project requirements, timelines, and budgets.
